Mr. Aziz Ogan,
Director of the Museum of Antiquities,
Istanbul.

My dear Aziz Bey:

It was a source of great regret to me that I was unable during my brief sojourn in Istanbul some weeks ago to call and see you at the Museum. I had only one weekday there, and intended to pay you a visit in the afternoon; but there were so many errands and purchases for our excavations to be attended to that I did not finish until after the Museum had closed, and I was obliged to depart for Ankara that evening. Next time I come to Istanbul I shall make a special point of staying longer so that I may have an opportunity for a friendly talk with you.

I am writing now - what I wished to say in person - to invite you most cordially to come down to see our excavations at Troy this season; and I would suggest some time toward the end of May, if that is convenient for you. We shall also be very happy to see your daughter, if she would like to accompany you.

Hoping that you can come, and with cordial greetings, I am

Yours sincerely,

Carl W. Blegen
